Your Team from Advanced Life Photography
Welcome back students and parents. Our year has begun very well with a strong Year 7 cohort arriving and impressing our teachers with their enthusiasm for learning and excellent behaviour. Well done to our Primary School partners for the great job they have done.

We have several new staff at the school:

- Mr Chris Tabi is our new Head Teacher of Mathematics;
- Mrs Angela Rayner is teaching in the HSIE faculty;
- Mrs Tegan Aitkin is shared between the English and HSIE faculties.

All have settled in very well and I commend the students for making them welcome.

Year 7

Year 7 enjoyed their Study Camp on Tuesday and worked through a program that included study skills, respect and anti-bullying, cooperative learning games and activities. It was a fantastic day.

Last night the school hosted a barbeque to welcome Year 7 students and their parents. Teachers met new parents and are looking forward to establishing the partnerships which make education successful. Following the barbeque, the school held its first School Social of the year.

I recognise that the new year brings new requests for funds for student equipment, uniforms and excursions, and that these expenses may prove difficult for families affected by the ongoing drought or other financial hardships. Our school will support families as much as possible through payment plans, uniform supplies and assistance.

I encourage parents that are new to the school to come along to our first P&C meeting of the year. You will get to meet staff and other parents in a friendly, informative group.

2013 HSC Students

The HSC results and post-school destinations for students have been very positive. Every one of the students at Coonabarabran High who elected to study at University received an offer - most received their first choice and 12 received an early round offer through the Principal’s Recommendation scheme. Students have selected and received offers to study a range of Science and Engineering courses, Music, Education, Pharmacy and History. TAFE has been a destination of choice for several students and some have been fortunate to secure trades and traineeships. I have also enjoyed meeting several of our graduates in employment locally which is a great outcome for our community. I share the pride of our teachers and parents for these students and look forward to hearing from them all as they begin the next phase of their lives.

School Goals

The school has identified four goals for 2014 and built a comprehensive plan to ensure that we accomplish them.

- Quality Teaching and Learning including the implementation of new curriculum;
- Literacy and numeracy growth across the school;
- Student attendance; and
- Staff wellbeing and capacity to support student learning.

We need your support to achieve these goals. Your student must attend school regularly to have the best platform for academic and social success. We will keep you informed of our progress throughout the year through the newsletter, website and personal contact.

P&C President’s Report

The first Coonabarabran High School P&C meeting for 2014 is scheduled for Monday 24th Feb 2014. We are a small, dedicated bunch and would love to see a few new faces join the committee this year. We meet on the last Monday of each month, in the school library at 5.30pm. The P&C provides the ideal forum to find out what is happening at your school and to provide input into school operations and policies.

Our next fund raising activity is to run the gate at the Coonabarabran Show on the 14th and 15th March 2014. It is quite a profitable activity, with most of the organisational work being done by the Show Committee. We will develop a roster of volunteers to cover the 2 days and nights over the next week or so and place it on the school website so that you can nominate the block of time(s) that suit you best. It is quite a social activity as you meet and greet everyone as they enter the show.

We look forward to meeting new staff, students, parents and carers over the next 12 months.

Mark Fosdick

Coonabarabran High School is encouraging all mathematics students to enter this competition.
To enter you need to take $6 to Ms Ryan at the front office by Monday, 24 February.

Coonabarabran High School P & C
Meeting 2nd December 2013

Meeting Opened: 5.35pm. Attendance: Tammy Samuel, Nick Karagiannis, Angela Karagiannis, Skye Lambert, Clayton McKinnon, Samantha Smith, Makayla Munns, Jim Nash, Kellie Nash, Suellyn Tighe, Mel Johnston, Philip van Schalkwyk, Ansie van Schalkwyk, Debbie Mukhar, Mark Fosdick, Mandy Sulter, Leesa Kelly, Anita Tighe, Mark Heaney, Graham Enks and Narelle Pfeiffer.

Apologies: Tracee McHugh, Ruth Mercieca and Anne Maree Elton. Motion: That apologies be accepted. Moved Anita Tighe, seconded Tammy Samuel.

Speakers:
School Captains Clayton McKinnon and Samantha Smith and Deputy Captains Makayla Munns and Jim Nash. Presentation included an explanation of the role of the SRC and their key objectives as Captains and Vice Captains of the School. They identified an objective of the SRC was to get everyone in school involved in the International Feast Night from year 7 to year 10 with a focus on bringing year 7 students closer to senior students. They also aimed to organise projects to ensure students get involved in school events. They are looking at the girl’s shorts and reviewing their suitability. Other issues include pollution around the school. They have a plan to dress up the rubbish bins around the school to encourage greater use of them.

Formal thanks were passed from the P&C to the SRC for their efforts with the International Feast Night.

Speaker: Suellyn Tighe from AECG. (AECG) NSW Aboriginal Education Consultative Group This group is responsible for supporting the school in all Aboriginal education issues. It is a group of Aboriginal and other supporters that work at Local, State and Federal level. The current objective of the local AECG group is to ensure it works well as a group to achieve its objectives. It has been operating from 1977. It aims to encourage positive partnerships, assist in finding extra funding avenues, support training and governance issues. They are currently focusing on training AECG members on how to run meetings. They offer cultural awareness packages, they assist with a special program for connecting to Country and strongly support junior AECG in Schools.

Suellyn’s special area of interest is in language. Other links and partnerships may be developed in historical work, they can also endorse school funding. The AECG aims to encourage strong Aboriginal perspectives in school. They aim to give added relevance and exposure to Aboriginal culture. The AECG aims to increase Aboriginal involvement in school decision making. The AECG encourages a cross section of members for the local group. Contact the AECG for membership details. http://www.aecg.nsw.edu.au/ (Web page). AECG are a conduit for feedback with the community. Suellyn suggested AECG members may like to attend P&C meetings on occasion. P&C to send an invitation to a future meeting. Mandy Sulter suggested P&C invite AECG members to our meetings twice a year. Mark Fosdick said P&C is always looking for ways to increase the involvement of parents and carers.

Speaker: Narelle Pfeiffer – School Chaplain
Narelle supports some students on a one on one basis. She refers some needy students to Lee Somers and works well with the teacher holding the role of Girls’ Representative – Michelle Birrell. She also enjoys running the CHIC program which looks at self esteem and relationship concerns. She believes it gives a great opportunity for female students to discuss their issues. Narelle co-ordinates the Love Bites program. This program looks at domestic violence, sexual assault and other important issues. She also brings relevant people into the program. She works with Kylie Skidmore the Scripture teacher in running the year 7 Camp. The feedback has been great about this camp. Narelle also gets involved with community issues, helps with the care of some students and provides support to teachers when they would like a listening ear.

Narelle requested that the P&C formally approve her position as Chaplain for our school for administrative reasons and to indicate that the P&C is happy with the quality of her work in this position. Mark Fosdick moved a motion that the P&C endorse Narelle Pfeiffer in her position of Chaplain at Coonabarabran High School. Mandy Sulter seconded this motion. Motion approved.

Special Note: Meeting suspended at 6.10pm to see the school’s new 3D printer and resumed its meeting at 6.25pm.

Business arising from Previous Minutes:
- The International Feast was discussed. It was confirmed that $100.00 would be reimbursed to Tammy Samuel to cover the cost of the raffle prizes.
- Angela Karagiannis confirmed profit from the International Feast event was about $2,300.00. Nick Karagiannis recommended P&C amend the earlier motion capping payment back to stallholders to $50.00 as the costs were significantly higher than this. A motion was brought forward that amended the previous motion and now stated that P&C would offer to cover the costs of each stallholder incurred in their involvement in the International Feast event. Moved Mark Fosdick and seconded Leesa Kelly. It is noted that all stallholders will be contacted about possible reimbursement by P&C members.
- The International Feast debrief confirmed that there was very positive feedback about this event. It was found to be very cheap by community members attending. Approximately 837 tickets were sold for the event. Approximately 300 people attended. All food was finished very quickly. In considering holding the event for 2014 it was suggested that the charge could be raised slightly to $15.00 for 3 serves. It was also suggested that each stallholder may need some more helpers so that they also get the opportunity to try the food from the other stallholders. Congratulations to all P&C members especially Nick Karagiannis and Tammy Samuel as well as to the Year 11 Hospitality class for their enthusiastic involvement in the evening. Further suggestions were that we might need more food heaters, bain maries and definitely more seats and tables. Entertainment could be an even greater focus for 2014. There was a suggestion that entry could also be considered from the lower entry gate near the school hall. It was recommended that bin liners be used next time. All issues and suggestions will be considered by the P&C. It was also suggested that preselling tickets would be essential to determine numbers for catering purposes. Nick Karagiannis said that as a stallholder he would be happy to cater for 600 people in 2014.
- A special thank you goes to Jack Ayoub for his great singing during the event. Special thanks also go to Oxley Wiradjuri.

The AECG are a conduit for feedback with the community. Suellyn suggested AECG members may like to attend P&C meetings on occasion. P&C to send an invitation to a future meeting. Mandy Sulter suggested P&C invite AECG members to our meetings twice a year. Mark Fosdick said P&C is always looking for ways to increase the involvement of parents and carers.

Treasurer’s Report - Angela Karagiannis provided the Treasurer’s Report and advised we had approximately $6,778.00 in the bank. A paper copy of her report was tabled. Some payments are still to be made so the available funds ready for 2014 are approximately $6,300.00. Acceptance of the Treasurer’s Report was moved by Angela Karagiannis and seconded by Leesa Kelly.

Canteen Report – Canteen meeting was postponed. A report will be provided at the next P&C meeting.

Environment and Grounds Committee report – Graham Enks advised that Darren Devenish would start work on the North Wall project from 16th January 2014. There are plans to beautify the grounds in Autumn.

Principal’s Report – Mel Johnston went on the year 9/10 Aboriginal excursion to the University of Western Sydney last week. He thanked the P&C for postponing the P&C meeting. About 14 students have been offered early entry to University this year. Less students applied than in the previous year. It is great that some students may also receive scholarships.

All year 10 students undertook work experience. Some went as far away as Tasmania. There will be industrial action tomorrow regarding salaries and concerns about Federal funding. There is a new Commonwealth (and NSW) curriculum being introduced from next year. Students in our school will follow a new curriculum in 2014 for years 7 and 9 for English, Maths, Science and HSIE (Human Society and its Environment). Cultural and value learning are now being woven into the new curriculum. Refer to the school website for further information about the new curriculum.

Students refurbished a special race car. They protected the engine by putting the radiator at the back of the car. Kevin Keeler was the driver. 16 students as well as Mel Johnston went to this very special race. Kevin came second in the final.

The students went into the pits and other racing areas.

Deputy Principal’s Report – Graham Enks reported that they had received extra funding to allow the school to fund a general assistant for three weeks. He advised that Junior Reports will be distributed on Friday 13th December. He raised the issue that assessments not being handed in was still a concern to the school. The year 6 program concludes Friday 13th December. The program included taster lessons and social opportunities.

At the upcoming School Awards Night this Thursday, Rebel Black will be the guest speaker. Please arrive at 6.30 for a 7pm start. HSC results will be released Wednesday 18th December. The School Blues have been finalised. The school executive will get back to the P&C about a preferred date for an International Feast evening in 2014 to assist with planning.

General Business:
Upcoming events for 2014 include attending the gate for the Coona Show. Leesa Kelly advised that she prefers to assist in the morning sessions. The school is to set up an online roster for P&C and school members to confirm their times and dates for this event. Other events coming up will be the Horse Expo and it is expected that the International Feast will also be held again in 2014. Possible guest speakers have yet to be considered.

Streaming year 7 classes was raised as an issue during the P&C meeting. Mel Johnston’s view was that when students start they need the opportunity to settle in. The High School also wishes to properly assess the students before they place them in any streamed classes. The school will consider the option of streaming classes at the end of Semester 1. Debbie Mukhar referred to the Department of Education Policy for Gifted and Talented students and raised the concern about whether the school was catering adequately for gifted and talented students within the school. Leesa Kelly advised that she was glad there was no streaming in year 7 during the year her son started in Year 7 even though he had previously been in the Opportunity Class in Primary School. Debbie Mukhar also raised the issue of the standard of maths for year 7. Mel Johnston advised that they anticipated using Maths 300 for interactive learning as well as scaffolding classes. It was suggested that there was the opportunity for Mel Johnston, Graham Enks, Debbie Mukhar, other interested parents and Kit May (teacher) to attend a special meeting to discuss catering for gifted and talented students in the future.

Date of Next Meeting: Monday 24th February 2014. Meeting Closed: 7.30pm.

Administration Reminder - Could you please use the P&C’s new email address for all secretarial correspondence for any messages, apologies or suggested speakers. It is: chspsc@gmail.com. Thank you. Welcome back to school everyone and welcome to a new year of Indonesian language learning at Coonabarabran High School. This is the second year of the program and I am hoping it will be even bigger and more exciting than 2013. I am really excited about this opportunity to continue delivering our program of Indonesian language and culture to our students, our school and indeed the wider community in Coonabarabran. I have every confidence it is going to be an enjoyable and enriching experience for all.

The past year has seen some great developments in the language acquisition and cultural understanding of our student body. I am pleased to say this year we have added a year 9 class to our language learning cohort. The study of Indonesian language is extremely relevant and beneficial to our students with the economic development of many Asian nations including Indonesia. Perhaps the ultimate demonstration as to the relevance of learning Indonesian language is the prevalence of Indonesian news stories in the Australian media spotlight.

The Australian–Indonesian media relationship is a great source of material for our students to engage with the wider region and gain a better understanding of the current economic and political developments in the Asia-Pacific region.

Language lesson with Pak Holden

I just know that most staff members at the school and many parents and carers at home just can’t wait to learn a little Indonesian language themselves. Therefore, this section of my column will endeavour to accommodate that insatiable longing. Here goes.

In Indonesia, to greet someone in the morning you say; Selamat pagi

Pronounced: s’LA.mat PA.ghee

This basically means good morning. You can initiate this morning pleasantries with the above, you would also respond with the same phrase. You can try this with our year 8 students if you like.

Selamat datang semua

Pronounced: s’LA.mat DA.tang s’MOO. Wa

This phrase is a greeting to more than one person; basically you are saying “welcome all”

Ok I think that is enough for now, until next month.

Sampai jumpa!

CARPARK TRAFFIC

Due to WHS concerns, we encourage parents NOT to enter the staff/senior student carpark (‘top’ carpark) to drop off or collect their sons or daughters.

The additional traffic entering and departing the narrow southern entrance creates a bottleneck and adds to the probability of an accident either in that location or on the highway.

We encourage parents to consider alternative arrangements to allow for a smoother traffic flow and to reduce the likelihood of accidents.

Thank you for your support.

Swimming Carnival

The annual swimming carnival was held on Wednesday, 12th February. Again the feature of the day was the enthusiastic participation and tremendous House spirit. New school records were set by Phoebe Hensby (17+ backstroke), Sam Bowden (17+ backstroke), Jack Isedale (14’s butterfly) and the Mopra senior boys relay team. The age champions for the day were:
